- 12. The Ministry of the Interior (Ministerul Afacerilor Interne) had a training center at Ineu, which gave a five-month course. Physicians selected for this course and Ministry were all politically reliable.
- 13. In the Summer of 1951, all civilian physicians in the military reserve up to the age of 50 were required to take two months' training in military medical subjects. Physicians were taken in groups for this schooling. In the Cluj regiune, this training was given at the OILA building. At the same time, a review was made of the grades held by these reservists and reassignment of rank, based on political reliability, was made. The course consisted of one month of military training and one month of lectures on military medicine and Marxism-Leninism. Attitude towards the latter lectures was given considerable importance in determining each doctor's grade.
